WISCONSIN HISTORICAL SOCIETY HISTORIC SITES & MUSEUMS IN 2021: BACK OPEN AND BETTER THAN EVER!

Thanks to the receipt of $1 million in American Recovery Act funds, the Wisconsin Historical Society (WHS) was able to reopen all of its 12 historic sites and museums across the state for the 2021 season.

More than 91,000 guests have visited our sites in-person throughout 2021, as of early October.

Circus World alone shattered projections by attracting a whopping 35,267 guests despite opening a month later than usual. Still, each day's attendance surpassed its 2019 total. That overwhelming response speaks to both the thirst among guests for entertainment as well as the value proposition of bringing the Baraboo attraction into the Society family of sites. In addition to the enthusiastic in-person response, tens of thousands more continue to connect with the Society virtually. Our historic sites and museums are vital to the tourism economies and the quality of life of their communities and we are pleased that this funding was provided to help us open our doors to guests.

Even when in-person engagement was temporarily paused due to the pandemic, the Society devised new ways to allow citizens to remain connected to the sites. New initiatives such as virtual tours, online programming and regular social media content proved extremely popular, opening new pathways for engagement and connecting our sites to new audiences. Ultimately, this challenging and historic moment has strengthened our organization for future growth. The new, robust virtual platforms, as well as physical improvements to the sites completed during the temporary pause, have paved the way for significantly improved guest experiences. We are building on this momentum by working to add new online ticketing infrastructure and increasing marketing support for the sites in 2022.

The following pages offer highlights from each site. The Society is grateful for the continued support of the State Legislature as we continue our 175-year mission of collecting, preserving, and sharing history.

The Society's historic site in Prairie du Chien hosted its 40th Annual Carriage Classic (left) after re-opening, attracting 3,008 spectators over three days and 127 competitors from 17 states, the most ever represented! In fact, Friday's attendance of 344 was three times higher than average. Meanwhile, earlier in the summer, workers (right) replaced the walkways around the National Landmark mansion, utilizing historic rehabilitation standards, to improve accessibility for all guests.
