

Digging and Discovery: Wisconsin Archaeology

Chapter 1: Pathways to the Past

Chapter 2: When Great Furry Beasts Roamed the Land

Kenosha County Mammoths – Believe It or Not
Mammoths and Mastodons

Chapter 3: Archaic People: Hunters and Gatherers

The Bass Quarry Site: Tools Are Us

Chapter 4: New Ways of Living: Woodland, Mississippian, and the Oneota

Woodland
The Statz Site, a Woodland Village
Mississippian Life
Aztalan, a Mississippian Outpost?
The Oneota
The Tremaine Site, an Oneota Village
From the Archaeological Record into the Historic Record

Chapter 5: Stories in Stone: Looking at Wisconsin Rock Art

Meeting at Red Horn
Looking at Red Horn

Chapter 6: Furs and Forts

Rock Island, Gateway to Wisconsin

Chapter 7: Mines, Timber, and Farms

Mining in the Driftless Area
Hardscrabble, Grant County: Newcomers to an Old Land
Logging in the Northern Woods
The Sherry and Gerry Logging Camp, Oconto County
Farms across Wisconsin (...Or You Can't Eat Lead and Pine Trees)
The Two Pits Site: A Failed Farm in Douglas County

Chapter 8: Taking Care of the Past