FREEDOM'S JOURNAL

Dedicated to the Improvement of the Colored Population

BY JNO. B. RUSSWURM.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 1831.

From the Abolition Monthly Reporter.

On the Demoralizing Influence of Slavery.

But the human race is thus formed to suffer.

The sufferings of slaves and free laborers are not the same. Slaves are subjected to a constant sense of fear, while free laborers have the satisfaction of knowing that they are free.

When a slave touches the British shore he is free; but when a free laborer is discharged, he is not free at all. He must seek another master, and his condition is worse than that of the slave. His freedom is illusory, and his condition is worse than that of the slave.

It is the duty of every free laborer to resist his master's authority, and to demand his rights as a citizen. He must not submit to the demands of his master, but must stand firm in the defense of his rights.

VARIETIES.

INTOXICATION.

The laws against intoxication are enforced with great rigour in Switzerland. Women are not allowed to drink, and the penalty for violation of the law is a fine of 300 francs. A man who is caught in the act of drinking is subject to a fine of 1,000 francs. In addition, the law requires that all persons over the age of 14 who are found in public places after 10 p.m. must produce a written statement from a medical authority certifying that they are not under the influence of alcohol.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

A shocking accident occurred in the town of Ypres, Belgium, on January 19th, when a large number of British soldiers were killed and injured as a result of a gas attack. The此次事件 caused widespread outrage and resulted in a series of international protests and diplomatic maneuvers.

STEAM CARRIAGE.

Gurney's carriage is a steam-powered vehicle designed for use on the roads. It is equipped with a four-cylinder engine and has a top speed of 15 miles per hour. The car is controlled by a lever on the steering wheel, and the driver can adjust the speed by turning a dial on the dashboard. The car is considered to be a significant advancement in automotive technology, as it was one of the first practical steam-powered vehicles.

THAMES TUNNEL.

The Thames Tunnel was a tunnel built under the river Thames in London, England. It was completed in 1843 and was used as a public thoroughfare until it was closed in 1884. The tunnel was originally intended to be a link between the City of London and the East End of the city, and it was designed to accommodate both pedestrians and horse-drawn carriages. However, it was not a commercial success and was eventually abandoned due to financial difficulties and lack of demand.
