AFRICAN SCHOOL NEWS.

NOTICE.—Parents and Guardians of Colored Children, are hereby informed that a Male and Female School has been established for the education of colored children, in the Missionary Society of this city, where the pupils are taught education as a profession for the benefit of society. The school is conducted by the Rev. T. P. Griffin, who has been in the service of the society for many years. The school is divided into four classes, and the children are taught both in the morning and evening. The school is open to all, without respect of color or creed. The school is under the direction of the Board of Trustees.}

JUDAS GIBBONS

Who has removed from 22 to 187 Broadway, New York. Duesing in correct and artistic style, having been for many years the most prominent and respected in the United States. Charges are reasonable. All orders promptly attended to.

NEW YORK, March 15, 1850.

We are on hand immediately to receive orders for hats, caps, and coats, and will deliver the same at short notice. Apply to

JAMES R. NELSON.

ACME TOILET.

The above gentleman have sent us a large box of their Toilet for sale and the orders received exceeds our expectations. We can supply the entire stock at a reduced price, as our stock is very limited.

S. A. E. CORNISH.

CABINET MAKER.

Worlds foremost in the manufacture of the above article, we have taken the precaution of sending you a sample of our Goods. We are prepared to do business on the shortest notice and at the lowest rates.

N. B. N. COFFINS made to order at the lowest price as can be had in the City. Feb. 20.

African Free Schools.

NOTICE.—Parents and Guardians of Colored Children, are hereby informed that a Male and Female School has been established for the education of colored children, in the Missionary Society of this city, where the pupils are taught education as a profession for the benefit of society. The school is conducted by the Rev. T. P. Griffin, who has been in the service of the society for many years. The school is divided into four classes, and the children are taught both in the morning and evening. The school is open to all, without respect of color or creed. The school is under the direction of the Board of Trustees.

NEW YORK, March 15, 1850.

We are on hand immediately to receive orders for hats, caps, and coats, and will deliver the same at short notice. Apply to

JAMES R. NELSON.

ACME TOILET.

The above gentleman have sent us a large box of their Toilet for sale and the orders received exceeds our expectations. We can supply the entire stock at a reduced price, as our stock is very limited.

S. A. E. CORNISH.

CABINET MAKER.

Worlds foremost in the manufacture of the above article, we have taken the precaution of sending you a sample of our Goods. We are prepared to do business on the shortest notice and at the lowest rates.

N. B. N. COFFINS made to order at the lowest price as can be had in the City. Feb. 20.

African Free Schools.

NOTICE.—Parents and Guardians of Colored Children, are hereby informed that a Male and Female School has been established for the education of colored children, in the Missionary Society of this city, where the pupils are taught education as a profession for the benefit of society. The school is conducted by the Rev. T. P. Griffin, who has been in the service of the society for many years. The school is divided into four classes, and the children are taught both in the morning and evening. The school is open to all, without respect of color or creed. The school is under the direction of the Board of Trustees.

NEW YORK, March 15, 1850.

We are on hand immediately to receive orders for hats, caps, and coats, and will deliver the same at short notice. Apply to

JAMES R. NELSON.

ACME TOILET.

The above gentleman have sent us a large box of their Toilet for sale and the orders received exceeds our expectations. We can supply the entire stock at a reduced price, as our stock is very limited.

S. A. E. CORNISH.

CABINET MAKER.

Worlds foremost in the manufacture of the above article, we have taken the precaution of sending you a sample of our Goods. We are prepared to do business on the shortest notice and at the lowest rates.

N. B. N. COFFINS made to order at the lowest price as can be had in the City. Feb. 20.

African Free Schools.

NOTICE.—Parents and Guardians of Colored Children, are hereby informed that a Male and Female School has been established for the education of colored children, in the Missionary Society of this city, where the pupils are taught education as a profession for the benefit of society. The school is conducted by the Rev. T. P. Griffin, who has been in the service of the society for many years. The school is divided into four classes, and the children are taught both in the morning and evening. The school is open to all, without respect of color or creed. The school is under the direction of the Board of Trustees.

NEW YORK, March 15, 1850.

We are on hand immediately to receive orders for hats, caps, and coats, and will deliver the same at short notice. Apply to

JAMES R. NELSON.

ACME TOILET.

The above gentleman have sent us a large box of their Toilet for sale and the orders received exceeds our expectations. We can supply the entire stock at a reduced price, as our stock is very limited.

S. A. E. CORNISH.

CABINET MAKER.

Worlds foremost in the manufacture of the above article, we have taken the precaution of sending you a sample of our Goods. We are prepared to do business on the shortest notice and at the lowest rates.

N. B. N. COFFINS made to order at the lowest price as can be had in the City. Feb. 20.
THE DIARY OF A LADY

BY MARY WOLLSTONECRAFT

In the year 1788, a young woman of twenty-five, named Mary Wollstonecraft, set out on a journey to the mountains of Scotland. She was accompanied by her close friend, Elizabeth Fawke, who had been her confidant for many years.

The two women traveled together for several weeks, exploring the natural beauty of the Scottish Highlands. They rode on horseback, walked through forests, and climbed mountains to reach their destination.

Upon arriving, they encountered a group of shepherds who invited them to their cabin for tea. Mary and Elizabeth were struck by the simplicity and kindness of the shepherds, who shared their food and stories with them.

Mary Wollstonecraft was inspired by her experience and began to write about it in her diary. Her observations about the natural world and her interactions with the people she met on her journey were filled with wonder and admiration.

The diary entries continued to document Mary's experiences as she traveled through Scotland, highlighting her thoughts on the beauty of nature and the importance of human connection.

As Mary Wollstonecraft's journey came to an end, she returned to London with a newfound appreciation for the power and beauty of the natural world. Her diary entries serve as a reminder of the importance of being connected to nature and the people around us.
SLAVERY.

The failure of occupation, and of human indignation, at the wrongs and sufferings of those who are unjustly and cruelly enslaved, has excited great interest and sympathy in the North, where the same injustice is being perpetrated on a vast scale.

The following is a letter written by a slave, who was recently released from bondage, to his former master:

"Mr. —, my old master, I have been released from slavery by the abolitionists, and I am now free to speak my mind. I have been a slave for many years, and I have suffered greatly under your cruel treatment. I have seen many other slaves suffer as I have, and I have learned to hate slavery.

"I have always been a faithful slave, and I have always worked hard for my master. But I have never been happy, and I have always longed for freedom. I have always dreamed of the day when I would be free to live as I please.

"Now that I am free, I am determined to live as I please. I have always been a hard worker, and I have always been able to support myself. I will continue to work hard, and I will continue to live as I please.

"I thank you, Mr. —, for releasing me from slavery. I know that you have always treated me well, and I know that you have always been a good master. I will always be grateful to you for releasing me from slavery.

"I have always been a slave, and I have always been a slave to my master. But now I am free, and I am free to live as I please. I will always be grateful to you, Mr. —, for releasing me from slavery."
Morgan Discovered in Asia.—W. has been confirmed and corrodorin by the discovery of a shipwreck in the South China Sea. The find has informed us that there is now living at Shanghai, a man named Morgan, who is said to be the last of the Spanish explorers. He was discovered, or rather caught, by a Japanese steamer, which was proceeding on account of the fog in the China Sea, and as the shipwreck was over a mile distant from the nearest land, Morgan was saved and brought to us.

From the London Daily Express, 1842.

HERALD MELODY.

A favourite melody for the volunteer singers, and which is found in the volumes of the venerable library of music, under the title of 'The villager's song.' It is sung by the volunteers at the Volunteer meeting in the town of Exeter,
and is a favourite with the volunteers at the Volunteer
meeting in the town of Exeter.

From the London Daily Express, 1842.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR.

Mr. Gold, of the Academy of English Language, has prepared a course of English grammar, which is published in a book, entitled
'Grammar of the English Language.'

From the London Daily Express, 1842.

LAND FOR SALE.

The subscriber is authorized to announce that he has a large tract of land for sale, situated in the neighborhood of a large city, and which is situated on the western side of the state. The land is of considerable extent, and is situated in a convenient and healthful climate. The subscribers are willing to sell the land at a reasonable price.

From the London Daily Express, 1842.