A grand son of Mr. J. B. Burchard, aged 12, was born with a mouth so much in deformity, it is capable of containing a single tooth. Surgeons have operated, but he is still spoken of as a monster. The case has been referred to Dr. Wm. B. D. H. for opinion.

REPRESENTATION OF A CONFLICTED COUNT NOW IN THE HOUSE.

Mr. Editor, - The strange rumor that has been floating among the streets of London this week is that the British government has decided to send an army to Egypt. This has caused much consternation among the English people, and there are many who believe that a war is inevitable. The government has not yet issued any official statement on the matter, but it is believed that a decision will be made soon.

The situation in Egypt is quite complex. The country has been ruled by the British for many years, but recently there have been signs of discontent among the Egyptian population. The British are accused of being too lenient in their treatment of the Egyptians, and there have been several outbreaks of violence in recent weeks. The Egyptian government has also been criticized for its policies, and there are many who believe that it is time for a change.

The British government has been under pressure to take action, and there are some who believe that it is now time to act. However, there are also those who believe that the British should be more patient, and that a solution can be found without going to war.

The situation is quite tense, and there are many who believe that a conflict is inevitable. The British government is said to be preparing for war, and there are rumors that troops are being moved towards the border. The Egyptian government has also been preparing for war, and it is believed that it is ready to defend itself.

It is clear that the situation in Egypt is quite complex, and that a solution will not be easy to find. The British government is under pressure to act, but it is important to remember that a war would be a disaster for everyone. The best solution would be a peaceful and negotiated solution, but this is unlikely to happen.

Sincerely yours,
