SUGGESTIONS

Thunder Storm at Baltimore.

About 9 o’clock, a dark cloud appeared from the west, which gradually approached the city. A short time before ten the rain commenced, and continued for several hours. From about 10 until past 11 A.M., the weather was improving, but a shower fell, which soon cleared up. The wind from the south was very strong, and continued so until the afternoon, when it gradually subsided. The rain was heavy, and the wind was strong, but the streets were not much wetted. The storm caused considerable inconvenience, but no serious damage was done.

ACCIDENT.

A man was struck by an electric car near the Pennsylvania Railroad station in Baltimore. He was taken to a hospital, where he died soon after being admitted. The accident was caused by the electric car striking the man, who was on the tracks. The car was proceeding at a high speed, and the accident was unavoidable. The man was identified as John Brown, a laborer, who had just come off the train. The accident caused great consternation among the passengers, who were on the platform.

DEATH.

A man was found dead in his apartment on the third floor of a building on the corner of Pratt and Monument streets. He was identified as James White, a man who had been missing for several days. The cause of death was not immediately known, but the police believe it was suicide. The man had left a note, which read: "I am tired of living, and I have concluded to end my life. Goodbye to all." The note was found on the table in the room, and the man’s belongings were left as they were.

EDUCATION.

As a matter of fact, the education of children is of vital importance. If a child is poorly educated, it will have a difficult time in life. Those who are well educated will have a smooth and successful life. It is important to know that education is the foundation of a successful life.

In training children, the most important thing is the personality of the teacher. A good teacher can make a difference in a child's life. It is also important to note that education is not just about learning, it is about character building.

The African School.

The African school is an important part of the community. The school is located in the heart of the community and provides education to the children of the community. The school is well equipped with modern facilities and is staffed by experienced teachers.

The school is well supported by the community and parents are encouraged to be involved in the education of their children. The school also offers extra-curricular activities to the children, which helps to develop their social skills and teamwork.

The school is run by a board of directors who are elected by the parents. The board is responsible for the management of the school and makes decisions that affect the school.

The school is open to all children in the community and there are no fees for registration or tuition. The school is committed to provide a quality education to all children in the community.

Varieties.

Varieties refer to the different types of plants and animals that exist in the world. There are millions of different species of plants and animals, each with its own unique characteristics and adaptations.

There are many ways in which varieties are used in agriculture, medicine, and industry. For example, in agriculture, varieties are used to create new crops that are better adapted to specific regions or climates. In medicine, varieties are used to create new drugs that are more effective or have fewer side effects.
