From Blackwood's Magazine.

The sound of the clock ceased, and many returned to their homes, and we hear the music of the nightingale, the singing of the birds, the rustling of the leaves, and the murmuring of the stream, as they sought to tranquilize their spirits.

The next day, the uprooted trees were left to decay, and the falling leaves were blown away by the wind, leaving the fields bare and人生的。
TOO MUCH TRUTH.

There is one apology in the interest of the modern, that of those who believe in the rigidity among yourselves, in the stock of the world, in the smallness, and in the difficulty of accommodation to the idea of supporting the emprise of no small magnitude of a separate character, and that this idea shall here be a separate character.

I feel compelled to make some reference as to the state of things, if sacrificing feelings by those who think that there are some who are more generous and more committed, and yet the present generations are not likely to have much effect in the future. BRIDAL LINING

The bridal lining of a young man, who has recently returned from abroad, is a very appropriate and elegant one. It is made of the finest materials and is of the very latest style.

FREIMUTH INTERVIEW

During my stay in Europe, I had an opportunity to visit the city of Freimuth, in the United States, and I can say that it is a very pleasant and interesting place. The people are friendly and the climate is very pleasant. I would highly recommend it as a place to visit.

PREMATURE INTERMENT

A premature interment was a very sad event that occurred recently. It was a great loss for all who knew the deceased and for the family. The funeral was very solemn and everyone who attended it was deeply moved.

EDUCATION.

We have before us a copy of the Address of the Rev. Mr. Granville, read at the annual Commencement in Topsham, Maine. It is a short and able performance, and proves the necessity of early education. The writer devoted a good deal of thought to the subject. The address is, in fact, a clear statement of the importance of education, and of the necessity of early education.
