LEMON DONATIONS

M12 CSDK RDBF

WANTED IMMEDIATELY.

TWO OR THREE DAVES AS PER

TOE boot and shoe care. Good emulsion of all the best brands of shoe material. Will pay for all reasonable offers.

-for the Shoe Cleaning business. Good experience would be preferred. Apply to

Richmond, Va., May 29, 1858.
government of the United States is a thing to be respected, and to be respected it must be maintained. The government is the only instrument by which alone the freedom of the people and the security of their rights are and can be maintained. The government is the protector of the rights of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the arbiter of the laws, and the government must be respected. The government is the atonement for the wrongs of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the creature of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the product of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the servant of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the invader of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the judge of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the protector of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the arbiter of the laws, and the government must be respected. The government is the atonement for the wrongs of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the creature of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the product of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the servant of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the invader of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the judge of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the protector of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the arbiter of the laws, and the government must be respected. The government is the atonement for the wrongs of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the creature of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the product of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the servant of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the invader of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the judge of the people, and the government must be respected. The government is the protector of the people, and the government must be respected.
FREEDOM'S JOURNAL

DEVOITED TO THE IMPROVEMENT OF THE COLOURED POPULATION

VOL. II

NEW-YORK, MARCH 14, 1839.

GEORGE B. ALLEN'S ESSAY.

To the American Convention for promoting the Abolition of Slavery, and improving the condition of the African Race.

Gentlemen:

I am aware that I have the honour of addressing so large an assembly of distinguished gentlemen of this country, and that I am only a poor little descendant of Africa; but I am here, nevertheless, to address you.

In the first place, I wish to thank you for your kind permission to put it into your hands to advocate the cause of our race, and to promote their emancipation from slavery.

What sound can be more delightful to the ear of a slave than the expression of the thoughts of his masters? This is the happy case with us in the Northern States, where we are free. We are free, and we are able to think and speak without fear of interference. We are free, and we are able to think and speak without fear of interference.

I have the happiness of belonging to a school which I was educated in when I was a boy. It was the only school in the state of New York, and it was attended by all the children of the state. It was not only attended by all the children of the state, but it was attended by all the children of the United States.

The school was attended by all the children of the state, and it was attended by all the children of the United States.

New-York, March 14, 1839.

GEORGE W. MOORE'S ESSAY.

Gentlemen:

I have rather a poor little school, but it is the only school in the United States, and it is attended by all the children of the state. It is attended by all the children of the state, and it is attended by all the children of the United States.

I have the happiness of belonging to a school which I was educated in when I was a boy. It was the only school in the state of New York, and it was attended by all the children of the state.

The school was attended by all the children of the state, and it was attended by all the children of the United States.

New-York, March 14, 1839.

ISAAC L. DAVIS'S ESSAY.

New-York, March 14, 1839.

I feel myself highly honored in addressing you in behalf of myself and the African race. When I reflect upon the fact that the abolition of slavery is now almost completed, and that the free states are now the largest and most populous of all the states, I feel myself highly honored in addressing you in behalf of myself and the African race.

This is a happy case with us in the Northern States, where we are free. We are free, and we are able to think and speak without fear of interference. We are free, and we are able to think and speak without fear of interference.

New-York, March 14, 1839.

The school was attended by all the children of the state, and it was attended by all the children of the United States.

I have the happiness of belonging to a school which I was educated in when I was a boy. It was the only school in the state of New York, and it was attended by all the children of the state.

The school was attended by all the children of the state, and it was attended by all the children of the United States.