Digital preservation and access for culture & heritage

Together with our customers we are preserving tens of millions of incredible digital artifacts for future generations. From recordings of the DC punk movement to a digitized fragment of the Gospel of St John, and beyond.
The WHS Electronic Records Portal (WERP) provides access to the electronic records collections of the State Archives at the Wisconsin Historical Society.

The WERP is a place for users to explore Wisconsin's historic digital collections that are maintained and preserved by the Wisconsin Historical Society (WHS). The collections include both state public records, transferred to the WHS by state agencies, and manuscript records left to the WHS by prominent Wisconsinites and Wisconsin businesses. The digital documents found on this website are often part of a larger collection of paper documents, photographs, and various film and audio formats available at WHS.

If you'd like to explore our digital collections, you can browse using the featured collections or the BROWSE ARCHIVE button above. Search for specific subjects or documents using the search bar.

Some documents cannot be displayed here for legal or technical reasons. Those files can often be viewed in person at the WHS Headquarters in Madison, WI.

Featured Collections

- Brochures – Fact Sheets – Posters – Signs
- Year 2000 (Y2K) records
